The existing staff strength of CSB is 1347 as on 31.10.2025.

MAJOR ACTIVITIES OF CSB

The mandated activities of CSB are Research and Development, maintenance of four tier silkworm seed production network, standardizing and instilling quality parameters in the various production processes and advising the Government on all matters concerning sericulture and silk industry. These mandated activities of Central Silk Board are being carried out by 157 units of CSB located in different States through a comprehensive Central Sector Scheme viz., “Silk Samagra-2” for the development of silk industry. The Union Cabinet has approved the “Silk Samagra-2” which is the improved version of earlier Silk Samagra scheme at a total financial outlay of Rs.4679.86 crore for implementation during 2021-22 to 2025-26. The Silk Samagra-2 scheme comprises of two major activities as under:

- i. Core activities of Central Silk Board.
 1. Research & Development, Training, Transfer of Technology and IT initiatives.
 2. Seed Organization.
 3. Coordination and Market Development.
 4. Quality Certification Systems, Export, Brand Promotion & Technology up-gradation.
- ii. Beneficiary oriented Critical Field level interventions: In addition to the core activities directly implemented by CSB, certain beneficiary oriented critical interventions required in the field for the promotion of sericulture are also implemented for transfer and adoption of improved technology packages.

While the core activities of Central Silk Board with four sub-components are implemented through a network of CSB units in the areas of R&D, seed production, project implementation & monitoring and brand promotion of silk in Indian and International markets, the beneficiary-oriented components are implemented through State Sericulture Departments/other Line Departments with the fund support from Central Silk Board.

The beneficiary-oriented interventions cover the major areas underpre and post-cocoon sectors viz., development and expansion of host plantation, support for silkworm rearing, strengthening and creation of silkworm seed production infrastructure, development of farm and post-cocoon capacities, up-gradation of reeling and processing technologies in silk, and capacity building through skill development and skill upgradation. These components shall be provided to the beneficiaries either in package mode to individual beneficiary or in a project mode. There are nine bundles of packages available for sericulture stakeholders to cater to the need of individual beneficiaries as well as Seri-Business Entrepreneurs/corporate sericulture (farm to fabric-large scale farming).

1. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

The Research and Training Institutes of CSB provide scientific and technological support for enhancing the production and productivity for sustainable sericulture through innovative approaches. The main institutes at Mysuru (Karnataka), Berhampore (West Bengal) and Pampore (Jammu and Kashmir) deal with Mulberry sericulture, whereas the one located at Ranchi (Jharkhand) pertaining to Tasar culture and the institute at Lahdoigarh, Jorhat (Assam) has to deal with Muga, Eri and Oak Tasar culture. Regional Sericultural Research Stations have been functioning under the control of main institutes for the development of region-specific technology package and dissemination of research findings as per regional needs. Besides, a network of Research Extension Centres (RECs) and their sub units are also functioning to provide extension support to sericulturists. In order to provide Research and Development support in post cocoon sector, the Board has established Central Silk Technological Research Institute (CSB-CSTRI) at Bengaluru. In addition, the CSB has also set up institute CSB-SSTL and institute for Seri- Biotechnological Research CSB-SBRL at Bengaluru (Karnataka) to carryout specialized biotechnology and silkworm seed related research and Central Sericultural Germplasm Resources Centre (CSB-CSGRC) at Hosur (Tamil Nadu) for conservation of seri-biodiversity (host plants & silkworm breeds).

2. TRANSFER OF TECHNOLOGY

- The technologies emanated out of the concluded projects are being effectively transferred to the field through various extension communication programmes (ECPs) viz., Krishi Melas cum exhibitions, Farmers' Field Days, Awareness programmes, Group Discussions, Enlightenment programmes/ Technology demonstrations, workshops/ seminar/ conference etc. During the year 2025-26 (upto 1st July 2025) a total of 44 ECPs were organized under sericulture sector and various technologies developed by the CSB R&D institutes were transferred effectively benefiting 2,867 stakeholders, covering pre & post cocoon sectors. A total of 30,857 cocoon lots, raw silk, fabrics, dyes, water etc., were tested for physical, chemical and eco-parameters.

- Launched Mera Resham Mera Abhiman (MRMA) for effective transfer of advanced sericulture technologies by bridging the research-to-field gap through a District Adoption model, aiming to transform sericulture across India through a 100-day mega campaign.
- Initiated the action for lab accreditation of R & D institutes with NABL for quality control.

3. CAPACITY BUILDING AND TRAINING

The R&D institutions of CSB spread across the country are intensively involved in training, skill seeding and skill enhancement on a sustainable basis, covering all activities of the silk value-chain pertaining to all the four silk sub-sectors. Capacity Building and Training initiatives of CSB have been structured under the following five heads:

- (i) Skill Training & Enterprise Development Programmes (STEP): Under this category, variety of short-term training modules focusing on entrepreneurship development, in-house and industry resource development, specialized overseas training, popularization of sericulture technologies, lab to land technology demonstration programmes, training impact assessment surveys etc., have been planned. Some of the popular programmes under this component are Entrepreneurship Development Programme, Technology Up-gradation Programme, Resource Development Programme / Trainers Training Programme, Competency Enhancement Training Programme, Disciplinary Proceedings Training, Management Development Programme etc.
- (ii) Establishment of Sericulture Resource Centre (SRC): SRCs are training cum facilitation centres established in selected Mulberry Bivoltine & Vanya clusters to act as an important link between Extension Centres of R&D labs and the beneficiaries. The purpose of these SRCs are technology demonstration, skill enhancement, and one-stop shop for Seri-inputs, doubt clarification and problem resolution at cluster level itself. As on date, 27 SRCs are functioning and 41 more SRCs are planned to be set up during current financial year.
- (iii) Capacity Building & Training by R&D Institutes of CSB: In addition to conducting structured long-term training programmes (Post Graduate Diploma in Sericulture & Intensive Sericulture Training), the R&D institutes of CSB conduct technology-based training for farmers and other stakeholders.

(iv) Capacity Building in Seed Sector: Silkworm seed is the most critical sector that drives the entire silk value chain. The quality of seed determines the quality of industry output. Therefore, addressing the capacity building and training needs for this sector is of paramount importance. It is proposed to conduct a variety of training programmes to cover industry stakeholders viz., Private Silkworm Seed Producers, Adopted Seed Rearers, Managers and work force attached to Govt. owned grainages.

4. IT INITIATIVES

- ❖ eOffice: CSB has implemented e-Office at Central Office, CSB-CSTRI & CSB-NSSO, Bengaluru.
- ❖ mKisan: CSB has widened the outreach of scientists and experts to disseminate information to provide scientific advisories to farmers through their mobile phones using mKisan Web Portal. All the main institutes are regularly providing advisories through this portal.
- ❖ SMS service: Day-to-day market rates of Silk and Cocoons are regularly sent through mobile phones for the use of farmers and other stakeholders of the industry. Both PUSH and PULL SMS services are in operation. Mobile numbers received from DOS are updated and all the registered farmers are receiving SMS messages on daily basis.
- ❖ CSB website: Central Silk Board has a website “csb.gov.in” in bi-lingual form (English and Hindi). Maximum information is disseminated through this portal for the benefit of common citizen, who may need to know about the organization as well as schemes and other details in sericulture sector. Publicity of sericulture plan programmes, achievements and sharing of success stories are featured in the website.
- ❖ National Database for farmers and reelers: Farmers and Reelers database has been designed and developed to help policy makers by providing appropriate information for effective decision making.

- ❖ Registration of Seed Producers under the provision of Central Silk Board (Amendment) Act, 2006: CSB has developed a newer version of web-based online registration platform to facilitate application for new renewal of Registrations through www.csb.gov.in which eases the process of paperless submission of application.
- ❖ Similarly, in order to monitor the Seed Production Units and Chawki Rearing Centres and ascertain the quality standards as laid down by the Seed Act for the Registered Producers, a newer version of android- based mobile application has been launched by CSB-NSSO for real-time onsite inspection by seed officers and seed analysts. This enables quick submission of inspection reports to the Seed Act Cell, Central Silk Board.

5. PRODUCT DESIGN, DEVELOPMENT & DIVERSIFICATION (P3D)

The activities under P3D are to give special focus on fabric engineering, silk blends, designing new fabric structures, design and development of new products in silk and silk blends, product development in the clusters, commercialization of developed products, assisting the commercializing partners in providing backward linkage, technical know-how and assisting/coordinating in sample development.

6. QUALITY CERTIFICATION SYSTEM, EXPORT BRAN PROMOTION TECHNOLOGY UPGRADATION

One of the main objectives of the Quality Certification System is to initiate suitable measures towards strengthening quality assurance, quality assessment and quality certification. Under the scheme, two components viz. “Cocoon and Raw Silk Testing Units” and “Promotion of Silk Mark” are being implemented.
